BUCKLEY, M. A. AND FR. KEEFE BANQUET STARS

Former Bridgeporters Will Make
Chief Addresses At Lincoln Day Dinner

Two former residents of Bridgeport will be the principal speakers at the annual Lincoln day banquet of Franklin Bartlett camp, No. 11, Sons of Veterans, at the Atlantic hotel, Thursday night at 7:30. One is Frank M. Buckley, A. M., a former South End boy, who is widely known in Bridgeport. Mr. Buckley was honor man of his class at Holy Cross university and long ago made a name for himself in his force, eloquence and sincerity in public addresses. After leaving college Mr. Buckley was for a time superintendent of schools at Ansonia. He is now head master of the Ellis school at Cambridge, Mass. Mr. Buckley is a member of the Bridgeport lodge of Elks. The subject of his address will be "Abraham Lincoln."

Rev. William A. Keefe, pastor of the Roman Catholic church at Putnam, is another former Bridgeporter who will speak. Fr. Keefe is a member of the Sons of Veterans, and by special permission from Bishop Nolan is delivering addresses on patriotism to the various camps of the state, and to other patriotic societies. Fr. Keefe was formerly assistant pastor of St. Augustine's church of this city. His subject at the banquet will be "Patriotism."

Commander M. B. Griffin of the camp will be the toastmaster and among the other speakers will be Mayor Clifford B. Wilson, who is also a member of the camp, Hon. Alfred B. Beers, past commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., Capt. Fred J. Breckbill, past department commander of the Spanish War Veterans, Charles F. Sherman, national patriotic instructor of the Sons of Veterans, Division Commander Harry C. Cooley, David Crossley, commander G. A. R., and Rev. A. C. Thompson, patriotic instructor, G. A. R.

Manager DeQuetteville of the hotel has provided an unusually elaborate menu for the banquet and between the courses the members of the camp will sing the old war songs which their fathers sang in the days of '61 to '65. Charles Benham will also sing "The Good Old U. S. A." Spiedel's orchestra will furnish music. The decorations, which will be both unusual and elaborate, will be by E. L. Gaylord. A unique feature of the banquet will be the Sons of Veterans salute and pledge of allegiance to the flag. Tickets for the banquet are selling rapidly. Covers will be laid for 200 persons and it is expected every ticket will be sold. They may be obtained of Commander Griffin or Walter E. Moore, secretary of the camp.

The committee in charge of the banquet is: E. L. Graves, chairman, Patrick Kane, M. B. Griffin, William McCombs, Albert Fiske, W. H. Hart, Thomas McCall, F. A. Bartlett, George Farley, J. E. Callahan, W. C. Daniels, George T. Benham and W. G. Moore.

BUYING TO SAVE MONEY.
Buying Foley's Honey and Tar Compound saves money because just a few doses stops the cough and cold and one bottle lasts a long time. It quickly heals raw and inflamed surfaces, stops tickling throat, hawking, rasping coughs, croup, hoarseness, bronchitis and is gripe coughs. Hindle's Drug Stores.—Adv.

HID KNIFE USED IN COMBAT IN HIS OLD WOODEN LEG
Detective George Fox found a knife in a wooden leg concealed in a closet in the home of Michael Ferrance, 108 Garden street, yesterday. The knife was important evidence when Ferrance was on trial in the city court today.

Ferrance was accused of assault with intent to kill upon Mahalek, at 106 Garden street. He denied having used any weapon on Mahalek. Fox located the blood stained instrument concealed in a discarded artificial limb, which was hidden in a clothes closet.

Noble McClintock, 77 years old, one of the guard for President Lincoln, on the night he was assassinated, died at Philadelphia.

Pimples, Like Little Boils, Could Hardly Shave, So Disfigured Ashamed to Go Anywhere. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Pond Hill Road, Union City, Conn.—"One morning about a year ago I got up with my face full of eczema. The pimples looked just like little boils. They looked red and then fostered and came to a yellow head. The itching was so intense that I scratched them until they bled and then they formed a scab which would not come off. I was so ashamed to go anywhere that I was ashamed to go anywhere. I lost sleep on account of irritation."

"I tried all kinds of remedies without results so one day I noticed an advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the newspaper and I wrote for a sample and I received them. First I washed my face clean with Cuticura Soap and then I applied the Cuticura Ointment. After buying three cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was cured." (Signed) D. H. Martin, June 3, 1913.

In selecting a toilet soap why not procure one possessing delicate emollient properties sufficient to allay minor irritations, remove redness and roughness, prevent pore-clogging, soften and soothe sensitive conditions, and promote skin and scalp health generally? Such a soap combined with the purest of saponaceous ingredients and most fragrant and refreshing of flower odors, is Cuticura Soap. Cuticura Soap 25c; and Cuticura Ointment 50c; are sold by dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

RAILROADERS REDUCED.
On account of the New Haven road's new schedule there has been a reduction of trains operated and a resultant decrease in the number of men needed. A number of men who have been running as engineers are now employed as firemen and some of the former firemen are now running as brakemen.

The protest of all progressive men of this country and particularly the protest of the enlightened working men should urge the senate and the President to prevent the passage of this infamous bill.

JEWS ADOPT STRONG
RESOLUTIONS AGAINST IMMIGRATION BILL

With upwards of 400 Jewish residents of Bridgeport and vicinity in attendance, a stirring mass meeting of protest against the Burnett immigration bill was held in Odd Fellows' hall yesterday. Dr. Goldfarb of New York, Meyer Zucker and Jasper McLevy of this city, were the speakers. Jacob Shaler was chairman. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted amid much enthusiasm:

"We, Jewish residents of Bridgeport, Conn., in assembly, at Odd Fellows' hall, on Sunday, February 9th, under the auspices of the Bridgeport Branch of the Jewish Socialist Federation and Workmen's Circle Branch No. 297, protest against the so-called Burnett Anti-Immigration Bill declaring:

"(1) That every attempt at limitation of free immigration is an attack upon the working class who are obliged, under the present system of production to be ever wandering from land to land in quest of work.

"(2) That the said Burnett Bill is an attack upon the progressive elements of the working class, and if adopted, our doors will be barred against all political refugees, thus aiding all reactionary powers of the old world and particularly the tyranny of Russia.

"The American soil is sapped by the blood of many great thinkers and valiant fighters of the old world who cooperated in the development and flourishing of this great republic.

"It will therefore be un-American to bar our gates against those who seek refuge from political persecution.

"The protest of all progressive men of this country and particularly the protest of the enlightened working men should urge the senate and the President to prevent the passage of this infamous bill."

The following resolutions were unanimously

MASTER OF SODA FOUNTAINS WILL LEAVE BRIDGEPORT

Lyndon K. Harrington, for four years in charge of the soda water fountain at C. D. Lane's Main street store, is to leave Bridgeport next week to take charge of the fountain at Frank L. Palmer's drug store, 376 Asylum street, Hartford. His son Carl will accompany him to Hartford to be his first assistant. Mr. Harrington will move his family to the Capital city at once.

RING FOR GOOD—AGAIN!

Adolph Wolgast, former lightweight champion of the world, passes his twenty-sixth milestone this week. Next to Bat Nelson and Bob Fitzsimmons, Ad is the most retiring of pugilists, having retired from the ring for "good and all" at least half a dozen times since he lost the lightweight title to Willie Ritchie in November, 1912. Ad recently "retired" again, and he expects to stay retired this time, or, at least, until he gets another chance at a good purse. Last September Ad was defeated by Joe Azevedo at Oakland. At that time he inquired: "What's the use of going any further? I don't have to box for a living. I don't like these short fights, and I would rather quit altogether than spend my time training and boxing around like a side-show man." And with them words Wolgast bade a sad farewell to the profession in which he had been a shining light. In a month or two, however, he was back with the gloves on, and last month in Milwaukee he whipped Jack Redmond, who has a reputation as a fairly good man. It's a bitter dose for a champion to swallow when somebody annexes his title and he has to go to scrapping the second-raters, but, being only twenty-six and having lived a clean life, Ad ought to have a lot of good bouts left in him.

Wolgast might be champion yet except for the attack of appendicitis he suffered in 1911. On the day before he was to have met Freddie Welsh he had to go to the hospital to be operated on, and he has never recovered his vitality. Willie Ritchie "subbed" for Wolgast against Welsh, and put up a good fight, although he lost the decision.

Wolgast was born in Cadillac, Mich., and has always made that town his home. He has a fine farm near his birthplace, and spends much of his time there when he is not fighting. He does all sorts of farm work, including plowing, and declares that there is nothing better for keeping in good physical condition.

Wolgast was the first boxer of German extraction to hold the lightweight title, and he lost it to another German-American, Klaus Papke, Houck, Mohs and Knockout Brown are among other recent boxers of German descent to win fame in the ring, although Billy Papke was the only one of them to hold a title.

The Department of Agriculture has killed 400,000 prairie dogs at a cost of $12,000.

MR. LYON SEEKS FOR VINDICATION

Henry W. Lyon, residing at 526 Clinton avenue, formerly assistant postmaster at Bridgeport, until the office was abolished, has brought action through his attorney, Thomas M. Cullinan, to ascertain why the post was abolished.

Some victims of la grippe fully recover the health of the lungs, and persistent coughing is weakening. The quick action of Foley's Honey and Tar makes it valuable in severe la grippe coughs. F. G.
